Chapter eleven of Daniel is the most remarkable record of pre-written history ever penned. According to one scholar, the chapter contains 135 prophecies that have been literally fulfilled and can be historically verified (Isa. 46:9-10).

The chapter focuses on the Persian and Greek empires with particular emphasis on two of the four divisions of the Greek empire after Alexander the Great. The Ptolemies (Egypt) were south of Israel and the Seleucids (Syria) were north of Israel.

In Daniel 11, Daniel receives details about the rise of Syria’s Antiochus Epiphanes and the coming Armageddon of the Antichrist.
